PRES. THEODORE ROOSEVELT WAS INAUGURATED TODAY

The Nation's Greatest Man Takes Oath As President.

100,000 Visitors Witnessed the Imposing Ceremonies at the National Capital.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES A BRIEF ADDRESS with the years the president of all the people. Today there were represented in the throngs that had journeyed hither to greet President Roosevelt men from the north, south, east, and west, and from distant islands of the seas; from the Philippines, from Porto Rico, from Hawaii—from every land where floats the emblem of the republic. In the great parade there rode governors of states, both north and south.

Phillips, who had fought under the flag of Arcturion today carried the arms of Uncle Sam and stepped proudly beneath the Stars and Stripes. Blanked Indians from the village plains vied with silk-hatted gentry from the estate East in sounding the praise of this cowboy-nathor-soldier-statesman. The president's old rancher friends, with lariat and chaparajos and wry bronchos, made strange contrast to the stiff-backed, pointer-chested young men from the national military schools. Rough Riders from San Juan Hill, volunteers from Santiago, jackies from Manila bay shared the glorification of the multitude with modest every-day soldiers, for whom the title Regular is distinction quite enough. Political clubs from East and West, militiamen from North and South, blue-clad veterans of the Spanish-American war, miners from Pennsylvania, the entire legislature of the state of Tennessee, the president's neighbors from Dyster Bay—all contributed to the national character of the splendid pageant. Who shall say that for today at least Theodore Roosevelt was not president of all the people?

Throughout the whole route the president, with hat in hand, kept bowing in acknowledgment of the greetings. On his arrival at the capitol he was conducted to the president's room in the rear of the senate chamber, where he began at once the signing of belated bills. At noon he entered the abode of the senate to witness the installation of Senator Fairbanks as vice president.
This ceremony concluded, he proceeded to the stand on the east front of the capitol to receive the oath from Chief Justice Fuller and to deliver his inaugural address. Immediately upon its conclusion the president was escorted back to the White House, where, after luncheon with the officials of the inaugural committee, he took his position on the stand in front to review the formal inaugural parade.

The quadrennial national fête day will be concluded with a general illumination of the city and fireworks on the Washington Monument grounds, followed by the great inaugural ball in the pension building, at which President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be the guests of honor.

The day broke cloudy with very slight rain. The sun soon emerged however and the clouds almost disappeared. The weather conditions are considered fairly propitious. The air is clear and balmy.

The inauguration cost about $65, 000, which it is believed has been fully repaid in the sale of grandstand seats and ball tickets.

The broad plaza whose level surface stretches east from the national capitol can accommodate an army.
For hours this morning Washington poured its own population and a vast increment of visitors into the front yard of the seat of government.
From the porticoes and windows of the capitol building a good idea of the scope of the multitude could be gathered. Eight acres of humanity spread fan shaped from the forum made by a little covered shelter, open at the sides, where the president was to stand. Over toward the imposing facade of the Congressional library it extended, literally a "sea of faces." There may have been only 50,000; probably there were nearer 100,000 in sight of the president when he took the oath.

The imposing form of Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan, who is almost heroic in stature, was the first to catch the eye of the vast crowd. Flanked by the marshal of the supreme court and the marshal of the District of Columbia, Justice Harlan led his colleagues, garbed in flowing robes of black, topped with satins skull caps, to their seats at the left of the tribune. After a brief pause, Chief Justice, the Roman ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, marshaled forth the ambassadors and ministers of foreign countries. When the daylight caught the

TWO LUNATICS

Perish in the Destruction of a Poor House.

Hillsdale, Mar. 1.—The main building of the county poor farm burned this morning. Mary White and Ellen Owen, lunatics, perished in the flames. The property loss is small.

Almost Choked to Death.

New York, Mar. 1.—In his anxiety to swallow evidence during a raid on an alleged poolroom in Brooklyn, High Winters, the reputed proprietor, nearly choked to death. His life was saved by the prompt action of the ambulance surgeon, who found the part of a racing sheet.

SEVERAL KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Passenger Trains Collided Near Pittsburg Last Night.

Hot Box Caused Train to Stop and the Other Crashed Into the Rear.

MANY PEOPLE WERE HURT

Pittsburg, Pa., March 4.—In a rear end collision last night between two special passenger trains from Cleveland and the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad, en route to Washington, six men and one woman were killed and twenty other passengers injured.

The accident happened at Clifton Station, eight miles west of Pittsburg, and was caused by the first special stopping to repair a hot box.
The second train followed so closely that the flagman had not time to get back far enough to prevent the collision.

The first train carried a battalion of the Ohio engineers. It was made up of six coaches and a baggage car.
The second train, with the same number of cars, carried the Tippecaw club of Cleveland, with a band of 25 or thirty women.

When the crash came the passengers in the rear car of the first train were the principal sufferers, and all of the fatalities were in that car. The wreckage took fire from the locomotive and the entire first train and three cars of the second were burned.

New trains were made up and sent to the scene to bring the dead and injured to Pittsburg.

Maj. J. B. McQuigg, who was in command of the engineers' battalion, suffered both legs broken at the thigh, and will probably die.

The engineer of the second train saw the block signal showed a green light and his train went ahead at the rate of about forty-five miles an hour. When the impact came the engine of the second train plowed through the rear Pullman in which the officers were and half way into the tourist car just ahead of it.

List of the Dead.

The identified dead are:
Captain William H. Hendry, battalion surgeon and a prominent Cleveland physician.
Lieut. Donaldson C. Scholfield, company D, a Cleveland architect.
Corporal James Kehoe.
Private H. K. Held.
James Gray.
Frank Pinney, aged 10 years, son of Lieut. O. C. Pinney.
Two unknown men died while being taken to the Beaver county hospital at Rochester.

Married at Metropolis.

Mr. Charles Meyers, of Mechanicsburg, and Miss Bertha Briggman, of Howlandtown, went to Metropolis, Ill., today and were married by Justice Biggett. They attempted to elope several days ago but were headed off.

EASIER FEELING THROUGHOUT RUSSIA

Representative Assembly Has Done Much Good.

Strikes and a Resumption of Work to Alternate For Some Little Time to Come.

THE DAWN OF MANY REFORMS.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 4.—The czar's rescript yesterday evening, summoning a representative assembly, has produced an excellent effect and turned the universal gloom caused by the reactionary manifesto of morning, into a feeling that the dawn of liberalism is approaching.

Strike Spreading.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 4.—The strike movement is spreading again, and stringent precautions have been taken to prevent disorder. The general opinion is that there will be no violent demonstrations. It is generally believed that the strike, so far as being general, will soon collapse. An alternation of general strikes and general resumption of work will probably be the program for sometime to come.

STATEHOOD BILL DEAD.

Plan of the House Leaders for the Next Congress.

Washington, March 4.—The statehood bill died at 9:30 o'clock last night. At that time the conferees on the bill parted, not to meet again during the Fifty-eighth congress.
There were persistent efforts on the part of the senate conferees to get an agreement reported to the two houses, but the house conferees made the positive declaration that no agreement report would be signed.

In 1903 small-pox occurred in fifty departments of France, out of were received.

I. N. Hook's Owners Want $1,000 For Rescuing the Hoxie

The owners of the steamer I. N.
Hook want $1,000 from the coal combustion for stopping the J. M. Hoxie when she was drifting down the river Saturday night, Feb. 11th. The owners of the Hook are the Aberdeen Coal and Mining company, up the Illinois Central railroad, and they have taken salvage papers out in the federal court here for $1,000 against the Hoxie, which papers were served on the boat today.

The Hoxie, it will be remembered, was tied up with several barges at Livingston's Point February 11th, and the heavy wind broke her loose from her moorings, and she was blown down the Ohio. There was

KUROPATKIN IN A DANGEROUS FLIGHT

His Left Wing is Cut Off From Main Army.

Reported About 200,000 Japanese Are Marching Onto Mukden.

FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS

Berlin, March 4.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg gives the contents of what is said to be a code dispatch, from Gen. Kuropatkin as follows:
"About 200,000 Japanese have broken through my left wing, which is cut off from the main army and the Japanese are marching on Mukden. My position is extremely dangerous."

A Determined Battle.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 4.—General Birjevin reports from Mukden, under yesterday's date, that a force of Japanese, marching from the Liao river toward Sinminth, encountered a Russian force west of Mukden. A determined fight ensued, the result of which is unknown. A body of Japanese later occupied Sinminth, but whether it was the same force which encountered the Russians, or another force has not developed.

Captures Many Positions.

Tokio, Mar. 4.—Gen. Oku has captured nine miles of Russian positions on the right bank of the Hun river, the battle today continuing along the entire front.

2,000 Troops Land.

Vladivostok, Mar. 4.—Two thousand Japanese troops have landed at Shencushin, northward of Corea to which place they were conveyed by steamer from warships, a flotilla of torpedo boats conveyed the landing.

Commercial Club to Have New Office

The Commercial club intends to fit up an elegant office, the nearest possible to arrange, when the membership has increased to satisfactory proportions, and will establish an information bureau for the benefit of the general public.

The intention is to fit up an office in the heart of the city accessible to every one, and have the secretary in charge. There will be an information department where information about the city, merchants and the county can be had for the asking.

When merchants or men who come here looking over the field with view of locating apply, the secretary will show him about the city and do everything to make his visit pleasant.

The membership committee continues to work hard to raise the membership list and yesterday afternoon the following new members were put on: J. P. Sleeth, A. E. Wool-pert, L. P. Hugg, A. Decker, Jr. & Bro., John Woelpert, L. M. Steph-

DEATH AT FULTON.

Young Lady Dies There of Consumption.

Miss Eunice Hardy, of Medina, Tenn., died of consumption yesterday at Fulton, Ky., where she was visiting her sister, Mrs. George Nix. She had been in bad health for some time, but her death was very unexpected. She had been asleep for a short time when she suddenly awoke with a coughing spell, and soon expired.

Miss Hardy was about 23 years old, and leaves a mother, five sisters and two brothers. Her sisters are Mrs. J. V. Senter, Medina, Tenn.; Mrs. Miles, of Paducah; Miss Sallie Hardy, of Herring, Ill.; and Mrs. Geo. Nix and Miss Mamie Hardy, of Fulton. The brothers are Messrs. Will Hardy and Wisdom Hardy, of Jackson, Tenn.

The remains were taken to Jackson, Tenn., for burial.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT INAUGURATED

gleam of their accoutrements. It was evident the diplomats had been undeterred by the calamity of four years ago, when the rain ruined some $30,000 worth of gold lace and regalia. These foreign gentlemen for the most part have honorary rank in their armies at home, and the full dress of crack European regiments is gaudy and gorgeous. The garb of a plain civilian diplomat is of itself well worth looking at. If the justices carried with them solemnity, the foreigners brought splendor, and when they were finally seated to the right of the president's rostrum their location marked an oasis of color amid a desert of black.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Fairbanks were next escorted to seats just outside the tribune. The president's children were with Mrs. Roosevelt, and Mr. Fairbanks' two sons, students at Yale, and his daughter, Mrs. Adelaide Timmons, were with Mrs. Fairbanks. Mrs. Roosevelt was gown ed in a severely plain tailored suit of electric blue; the round skirt was trimmed in bands of lighter shade panne velvet, and the short, modish jacket had a vest of the panne braided in silver. Mrs. Fairbanks wore a beautiful dress of brown velvet, trimmed with chiffon and white ermine. Her hat and gloves were also white. Vice President Fairbanks, accompanied by the secretary of the senate and followed by the senators and ex-senators, was next in order. Then came Speaker Cannon and the house of representatives. The instant the tall form of the vice president appeared a swelling cheer burst from the crowd. Mr. Fairbanks bowed repeatedly before taking his chair. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, advancing down the carpet in a business-like manner, was quickly recognized and evoked salves of applause.

Secretary Hay and the other members of the cabinet were ushered to their chairs, and at their heels came Admiral Dewey and Lieutenant-General Chaffee. Dewey is still popular with the American people. Billows of cheers greeted him, and the hero of Manila bay showed that he was pleased.

The governors of states and territories and the other invited guests followed in indiscriminate fashion, and in a short time all was in readiness for the coming of the chief executive.

President Roosevelt advanced from the door of the capitol, arm in arm with Chief Justice Fuller. Instantly, from all parts of the eight acres of humanity, arose a prolonged, tumultuous shout. At a distance it might have been mistaken for a chorus of colossal fog-horns; close by it filled and deafened the ears. Behind the president and his white-haired companion came James H. McHenry, clerk of the supreme court, bearing a ponderous Bible. When the demonstration ceased, Chief Justice Fuller, his snowy locks falling to his shoulders, in feeble tones pronounced the oath. President Roosevelt's voice was easily audible at some distance when he repeated the formal declaration prescribed in article II. of the constitution: "I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

A second later he bowed and pressed his lips upon the open pages of Holy Writ. Again erect, he faced the people, and for an instant perfect silence held. A signal had been dashed from the dome of the capitol to the navy yard, whence came the boom of a ten-inch gun, first of 21, fired in honor of the newly inaugurated chief executive. The tension was broken, and a roar of cheers resounded far and wide across the plaza. In fruitless competition there was heard by a few the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" from Professor Foster's big chorus. On the outskirts of the crowd lands were played; cannon in the Virginia forts across the river and batteries in the city were joining the big guns of the monitor "Puritan" in the salute to the president. For many minutes the jungle of sounds continued before the president could find a chance to begin his inaugural address.

President Roosevelt said:

My Fellow Citizens:

No people on earth have more cause to be thankful than ours, and this is said reverently, in no spirit of boastfulness in our own strength, but with gratitude to the Giver of Good who has blessed us with the conditions which have enabled us to achieve so large a measure of well-being and of happiness. To us as a people has been granted to lay the foundations of our national life in a new continent. We are the heirs of the ages, and yet we have had to pay for the penalties which in old countries are exacted by the dead hand of a bygone civilization. We have not been obliged to fight for our existence against any alien race; and yet our life has called for the vigor and effort without which the manlier and harder virtues wither away. Under such conditions it would be our own fault if we failed; and the success which we have had in the past, the success which we confidently believe the future will bring should cause in us no feeling of vainglory, but rather a deep and abiding realization of all which life has offered us; a full acknowledgment of the responsibility which is ours; and a fixed determination to show that under a free government a mighty people can thrive best, alike as regards the things of the body and the things of the soul.

Much has been given to us, and much will rightfully be expected from us. We have duties to others and duties to ourselves; and we can shirk neither. We have become a great nation, forced by the fact of its greatness into relations with the other nations of the earth; and we must behave as becoms a people with such responsibilities. Toward all other nations, large and small, our attitude must be one of cordial and sincere friendship. We must show not only in our words but in our deeds that we are earnestly desirous of securing their good will by acting toward them in a spirit of self and generous recognition of all their rights. But justice and generosity in a nation, as in an individual, count most when shown not by the weak but by the strong. While ever careful to refrain from wronging others, we must be no less insistent that we are not wronged ourselves. We wish peace; but we wish the peace of justice, the peace of righteousness. We wish it because we think it is right and not because we are afraid. No weak nation that acts manfully and justly should ever have cause to fear us, and no strong power should ever be able to single us out as a subject for insolent aggression.

Our relations with the other powers of the world are important; but still more important are our relations among ourselves. Such growth in wealth, in population, and in power as this nation has seen during the century and a quarter of its national life is inevitably accompanied by a like growth in the problems which are ever before every nation that rises to greatness. Power invariably means both responsibility and danger. Our forefathers faced certain perils which we have outgrown. We now face other perils the very existence of which it was impossible that they should foresee. Modern life is both complex and intense, and the tremendous changes wrought by the extraordinary industrial development of the last half century are felt in every fiber of our social and political being. Never before have men tried so vast and formidable an experiment as that of administering the affairs of a continent under the forms of a democratic republic. The conditions which have led to our marvelous material well-being, which have developed to a very high degree our energy, self-reliance, and individual initiative, have also brought the care and anxiety inseparable from the accumulation of great wealth in industrial centers. Upon the success of our experiment much depends; not only as regards our own welfare, but as regards the welfare of mankind. If we fail, the cause of free self-government throughout the world will rock to its foundations; and therefore our responsibility is heavy, to ourselves, to the world as it is today, and to the generations yet unborn. There is no good reason why we should fear the future, but there is every reason why we should face it seriously, neither hiding from ourselves the gravity of the problems before us nor fearing to approach these problems with the unflinching, unflinching purpose to solve them aright.

Yet, after all, though the problems are new, though the task set before us differ from the tasks set before our fathers who founded and preserved this republic, the spirit in which these tasks must be undertaken and these problems faced, if our duty is to be well done, remains essentially unchanged. We know that self-government is difficult. We know that no people needs such high traits of character as that people which seeks to govern its affairs aright through the freely expressed will of the freemen who compose it. But we have faith that we shall not prove false to the memories of the men of the mighty past. They did their work, they left us the splendid heritage we now enjoy. We in our turn have an assured confidence that we shall be able to leave this heritage unwasted and enlarged to our children and our children's children. To do so we must show, not merely in great crises, but in the everyday affairs of life, the qualities of practical intelligence, of courage, of hardihood and endurance, and above all the power of devotion to a lofty ideal, which made great the men who founded this republic in the days of Washington, which made great the men who preserved it in the days of Lincoln.

The conclusion of the address was the signal for another ovation, during which Mr. Roosevelt shook hands with most of the notables who pressed about the tribune. Then he was escorted back to the rotunda of the capitol and thence to the executive chamber, where he held a brief reception before leaving for the White House.

Today's closing business was of unusual importance to seriously engage the attention of the spectators, the heavy business of this congress already having been concluded for better or worse.

At noon Senator Frye, president pro tem, hammered the marble desk, and announced in set formula that the senate of the Fifty-eighth congress was adjourned sine die; then he immediately called the extraordinary session of the senate of the Fifty-ninth congress to order.

Mr. Fairbanks was forthwith ushered into the chamber, the senate members of the inaugural committee acting as his escort. He proceeded to the rostrum, where Senator Frye administered the usual oath. The new vice president's first official act was to call upon the senate chaplain, the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, to pray.

Mr. Fairbanks then delivered his inaugural address, and, at its conclusion, he instructed the secretary to read the president's proclamation convening the extraordinary session of the senate. Next the new senators were called to the secretary's desk and took the oath. This somewhat tedious business finished, the vice president announced:

"The sergeant-at-arms will execute the order for the inauguration ceremonies."

President Roosevelt was then escorted back to the executive chamber, adjoining the marble room, preparatory to going to the east portico, himself to take the oath of office. The other distinguished visitors filed out of the chamber in the order of official precedence, and went to the seats assigned them for the presidential ceremony.

Practical Lessons in Banking. No. 1

The practical benefits of a bank account are so numerous that we sometimes wonder that more people do not see them than actually do. The mere fact of being connected with a bank, of being known to the officers of that bank, ought to be sufficient to induce you to run an account.

If you are identified with some bank you will naturally stand higher in the community, will have better credit and more influence than you can without that association with a bank.

It is usually an easy matter to gauge a man's ability by his business habits, and no one thing stamps a man as being a good or bad business man quicker than the way in which he handles his money or cash transactions. Having an account with a bank lends a dignity and stability to one's business transactions that can be gotten in no other way.

The Loving Cup.
I drink the morning off to you Brimmed high with fresh delights; And full as blessed and as new Be all your days and nights!

So come, and welcome to you, Dear,
With eyes the heavens renew,
To find the First-Morn every day, Wide for the heart of you.

And Oh,—the Springtime, like a cup Of love for gods and men,
'Tis to her lips and mine, all up Again,—again,—again!

—HARPER'S HAZARD.

Miss Adeline Hagby.

The appearance of Miss Adeline Hagby this afternoon and night at The Kentucky in "The Simple Life" is an event of more than ordinary interest in Paducah's social life. Miss Hagby's home town has followed her career with enthusiasm and pleasure, but it is the first time it has had the coveted opportunity of seeing her in her chosen life-work. Charming, unaffected, gifted, she has grown to womanhood among a people who are all her friends, and that her appearance here will partake of an ovation goes without saying. Some social occasions have been planned in Miss Hagby's honor, and there will be various theatre parties. Her appearance in Bowling Green and other places where she is known, has been attended with social functions on a very charming scale, only limited there, as here, by her short stay.

Chaperone and Maids to Sponsor.

Miss Frances Tempest Herndon, who is sponsor for the Paducah camp of Confederate Veterans at the annual reunion in Louisville in June, has appointed Mrs. Luke Russell for the official chaperone, and Miss Ethel Brooks and Miss Mary Scott for her maids of honor. This makes a very gracious cortege to represent Paducah at the Louisville reunion. Miss Herndon is vigorous and graceful, with the decided gift and charm of tact. Mrs. Russell is a bright and attractive young matron, who is quite equal to occasions. Miss Brooks is one of the most popular of the season's debutantes and has an especially sweet and winning manner. Miss Mary Scott is now at Ward's seminary in Nashville for her finishing year, and is a bright, responsive and talented girl.

Mrs. Russell is a prominent daughter of the Confederacy, and Misses Herndon, Brooks and Scott are all daughters of notable Confederate soldiers and veterans of the city.

Attractive Reception.

The teachers of the Washington building on West Broadway gave a very delightful reception last evening complimentary to the teachers of the other buildings, the members of the board of education and their wives. The large hall on the third floor was charmingly decorated with palms and various plants. Hugs and pretty settees gave an artistic and home-like effect to the reception room.

A guessing contest on the states and territories was a feature of the evening's pleasure. Miss Carrie Rhye was successful in capturing the prize, a bunch of pink carnations in a cut with a number of others who answered all eighty questions. Miss Anna Bird Stewart gave a very attractive reading.

Delightful ices and cakes were served during the evening.

a enche-luncheon on Wednesday afternoon in honor of the West End club. There were six tables. Progressive enche was played, but instead of prizes each guest drew an attractive souvenir by a number corresponding to the one on the package. The pretty course-luncheon was a delightful affair, several guests coming to that after the cards.

The guest list included Mesdames W. A. Gardner, H. L. Bradley, T. C. Leach, M. B. Cope, L. A. Washington, Muscoe Burnett, Henry Hughes, J. C. Flournoy, C. H. Sherrill, Hal Corbett, George Thompson, Victor Voris, R. B. Phillips, Louis Rieke, Frank Rieke, A. J. Decker, Luke Russell, W. A. Berry, L. A. Fowler, W. B. McPherson, Ben Weller, Robert Reeves, J. A. Rudy, George Langstaff, H. E. Thompson, Charles Wheeler, Misses Waller, of Morgantown; Baird, Rieke and Emma Reed.

Hart, and the Misses Nash.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess after the business session.

Afternoon Card Party.

Mrs. Herman Friedman was hostess at the Standard club on Monday afternoon to a limited number of the ladies of the club, entertaining at cards. The first prize was won by Mrs. Henry Weil, and the second prize by Mrs. Louis Rieke. Those present were: Mesdames Henry Weil, Louis Rubel, David Levy Harry Livingston, David Alexander, Herman Friedman; Miss Irma Hecht.

Reception to Bride and Groom.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Griffith gave a reception on Monday evening from 7 to 10 at their house on the Cairo road in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pieper, who have just returned home from their bridal trip. There was music during the evening and delightful refreshments were served.

There were about 60 guests present.

Delphic Club.

A delightful session of the Delphic club was held on Tuesday morning at the Carnegie library. Mrs. A. R. Meyers gave a graphic description of "The Work of the French and American Painters in the Luxembourg" with James McNeill Whistler in especial detail. "The Palace of Pontainebleau—past and present," was interestingly treated by Mrs. Jno. G. Miller.

Reception to Miss Hagby.

Miss Henry B. Thompson and Miss Thompson will entertain with an informal tea this afternoon from 5 to 6 at their home on South Sixth street in honor of Miss Adeline Hagby. The house is attractively decorated with plants and flowers, and the occasion will be a delightful social one.

Standard Club Dance.

The Standard club gave a delightful dance at the club rooms on Broadway on Thursday evening. Lunch was served at the Columbia after the dance. There were twenty-four couples present and the occasion was a most pleasant one.

Matinee Party This Afternoon.

Miss Reta Hatfield is entertaining the Entre Nous club and a number of guests with a theatre party this afternoon to see Miss Adeline Hagby in "The Simple Life" at The Kentucky. The party includes forty guests.

Banquet to Knights Templar.

The ladies of the Eastern Star served an elaborate banquet to the Knights Templar commandery after their convocation on Tuesday evening, in the dining hall of the Fraternity building. The table decorations were ferns and Easter lilies, and the menu was most delightful.

Eastern Star Luncheon.

The order of the Eastern Star held an initiation of candidates on Thursday evening at the lodge room in the Fraternity building. A delightful luncheon was served at the close, and a pleasant social session was enjoyed.

Follenchela Club.

A pleasant meeting of the Follenchela club was held with Mrs. Emma Bekhoff, of North Fifth street, on Tuesday afternoon. Embroidery and music were features of interest, and an elaborate luncheon was served by the hostess. Only the club members were present.

Mr. Bennett Hagby has invited a few friends to meet Miss Adeline Hagby and some members of the company tonight after the performance of "The Simple Life." Supper will be served in the grill room of the Palmer House.

Pinkerton, of the First Christian church will perform the ceremony. It will be a quiet wedding with only the relatives and immediate friends in attendance. The bride will wear white China silk.

Miss Desha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Desha, of Ballard county, but has resided in Paducah for seven years, being an employed teacher in the city schools, up to the past week. She is a niece of Rufus J. Childress the Louisville poet, and is a young lady of attractive personality and a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Walker is assistant engineer of the N. C. and St. L. road and has charge of the Memphis and Paducah divisions of the system. He is a native of Canada and a college graduate. THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

It is with a feeling of reverence and pride that the people of the United States today greet their president, Theodore Roosevelt, a man who first became the nation's executive through the tragic death of the beloved William McKinley, and who so won his way into the hearts of the people, that when they had a chance themselves to speak they elected him to this great office by the greatest plurality in the country's history.

Today's events at Washington are the culmination of one of the most remarkable records ever made by a president. No man ever took the oath as president of the United States who was the choice of so many people as Theodore Roosevelt. A man whose public life has been as stainless, fearless, commendable and replete with success as his private life has been an example of all that is pure, unselfish and good, he stands today the ideal of American manhood, young, courageous and conscientious, possessing the ability to practice the principles he advocates, and the intrepidity and purpose to see that every man gets "a square deal."

It would be impossible to enumerate the many things Theodore Roosevelt has accomplished as a public man, and useless to attempt to show the widespread effect his honest, vigorous, straight-from-the-shoulder policies have had on the people of the United States; but as a proof that both have been great, we have only to point to that magnificent, colossal victory last November, when millions trooped to the polls to attest the great verdict of the American people.

His three years as president have been eventful ones. He has proven his fitness for the highest office in the country's gift in many ways, and the next four years of his residence in the White House will be fraught with the great attainments of a great man, backed by the greatest nation on earth.

President Roosevelt is president of the whole people, and he will give us four years of prosperous, wholesome progress. He will do the best that can be done to bring success and happiness to all, and wants the help and good-will of every loyal citizen in his work. He will labor for the good of the people as a nation, and will no doubt accomplish great things, but every man as an individual citizen should do his utmost to help, and thus aid in securing individual prosperity and happiness for himself and fellow man, as the president works for that of the nation.

In welcoming the new administration of President Roosevelt, it is with the profound hope and belief that it will be a blessing to him and a monument to the country's history.

MAYOR YEISER HAS REVOKED LICENSE

Mr. L. A. Lagomarsino Still Open as Usual.Mayor Awaiting Opinion Relative to Prosecuting For Selling Without a License.

LID TO BE ON TOMORROW.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser says that he has revoked Mr. L. A. Lagomarsino's saloon license, but Mr. Lagomarsino says not, and is still running at Second and Broadway, as if nothing had happened. Moreover, he says he would like to see the mayor try to close his place of business. If they want to arrest him for selling without a city license, he declares he is willing to fight it out in the courts, but he will certainly remain open at the old stand.

Mayor Yeiser, as he said he would do yesterday, late in the afternoon had served on Mr. Lagomarsino the following formal notice of revocation, prepared by Solicitor Puryear and served by Detective Will Baker: State of Kentucky, City of Paducah, ss.

It appearing to me, from the records of the police court of the City of Paducah, Kentucky, that L. A.
Lagomarsino, on March 3rd, 1905, was found guilty and fined for keeping open his saloon on Sunday February 26th 1905, and selling liquor therein on said day, in violation of the ordinances of the City of Paducah; and also in violation of the statutes of Kentucky, therefore I find that the said L. A. Lagomarsino did on Sunday, February 26th, 1905, in the City of Paducah, Kentucky, keep open his saloon and sell liquor therein. Now, by virtue of the authority vested in me, as mayor of the City of Paducah, Kentucky, I hereby revoke the saloon license of said L.
A. Lagomarsino from this date, and the date of said fine in the police court in the City of Paducah, Kentucky.

Given under my hand as mayor of the City of Paducah, Kentucky, this March 3rd, 1905.

D. A. YEISER,

Mayor of the City of Paducah, Ky.

Mayor of the City of Paducah, Ky.
Mr. Lagomarsino, at the advice of his attorneys, declined to close his place of business, and no warrant was issued against him for selling without a license. He claims that he does not stand convicted until he has accepted the judgment of this or some higher court and that the mayor has no right to presume he is guilty until his guilt is established in the courts which has not been done. He has taken an appeal in the case, and the papers were last evening made out by Deputy Circuit Clerk Will Kidd and served on Mayor Yeiser by Deputy Sheriff Will Ly-don.

The section of the license ordinance giving the mayor the right to revoke a saloon license is as follows:
"If at any time it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the mayor or that any licensed person, firm, company or corporation, has violated any of the provisions of this ordinance then the mayor can revoke his, her, their or its license."

It is claimed that this is unconstitutional, as a man who has paid for a saloon license cannot have it taken from him simply by a section like that. They say that the mayor might be satisfied that a man had been violating the law without any valid evidence at all, and according to the above section if he simply thought so, he could revoke the license. It is claimed that no such provision as the above will ever be sustained by the courts.

Even if Mr. Lagomarsino should be tried and fined for selling without a license some claim, he could still take an appeal, give bond, and remain open the same as usual.

Mayor Yeiser has asked for an opinion relative to prosecuting Mr.
Lagomarsino for selling without a license, but until he gets one, will institute no prosecution.

It is predicted that the lid will be on tight tomorrow, and bottles and jugs are being filled today in anticipation.

This afternoon Mayor Yeiser decided to have a warrant issued for selling whiskey without a license against Mr. Lagomarsino, and Detective Will Baker will furnish the information. The warrant will be issued this afternoon.

Paducah, but late of the Fulton I. C. wrecking crew, has accepted a position flagging on the I. C. and will

MORE CONFUSION IN THE INVESTIGATION

After the Inspector Leaves Run-ors Start.Deputy Sheriff Lydon Asks Judge Lightfoot to Investigate Truck Tax Collections.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT SOON HERE

The departure of State Inspector Henry H. Hines has seemingly only added to the confusion in democratic county official circles. Hundreds of people are wondering what the outcome will be, and it is freely predicated that a way will be found, "for the good of the party." If for nothing else, to whitewash those democrats who cannot get exonerated any other way.

It seems that the gravest of the charges are made by officials and their friends against each other. The public simply hears the reports. The rumors are started by one side and met by counter charges from the other.

A Salty Charge.

The latest feature of the many-dided controversy is a letter from Deputy Sheriff William Lydon asking for an investigation as to money alleged to have been collected as back taxes by the county clerk. He asks that either the State Inspector be requested to make an investigation of the books, or Judge Lightfoot call fiscal court to make the investigation.

Mr. Lydon makes his request as a tax payer, and his letter to Judge Lightfoot is as follows:

Mr. Lydon's Letter.

Paducah, Ky., Mar. 3, 1905.

Hon. R. T. Lightfoot,

Judge McCracken County.

Dear Sir:—

For several days the State Inspector, Hon. H. H. Hines, has been in Paducah, checking up the accounts of the county clerk as to revenue which the clerk has collected by virtue of his office for the state of Kentucky.

I know that the county clerk had collected money for the state which he had not paid over at the time Mr.
Hines came here to check him up, but was behind with the state over $2-500. I have reason to believe that the clerk has settled the amount of the shortage and paid it since the state inspector came here to check up his accounts.

The state inspector has not made any data as to the amount of revenue collected by Mr. Graham as county court clerk for McCracken county, or what he has done with it, but I have examined the books of the treasurer of McCracken county and find that Mr. Graham as county court clerk has only paid to the treasurer the following amounts on the following dates to wit:

April 9, 1896,	$ 575.32
October 6, 1896,	263.57
December 17, 1897,	723.61
December 31, 1898,	2,567.63
December 31, 1899,	946.17
December 18, 1900,	719.51
April 1, 1902,	1,941.03

Making a total of . . . $6,863.87

The books of the county treasurer show that Mr. Graham did not pay a cent to the treasurer as back tax collector in the year 1901, and that he has not paid to the county treasurer as back tax collector or otherwise, a cent from April 1, 1902, to the present time.

I know that he collected a great deal of back taxes belonging to the county in the year 1901, and I also know that he has collected a large amount of back taxes from time to time since his last payment to the county treasurer on April 1, 1902, all of which back taxes collected by said Graham belonging to the county of McCracken since his last payment to the treasurer in April, 1902, he has not yet paid to the treasurer and that he is behind with the county in a large sum.

Mr. Hines is still here, but is going away tonight to return Tuesday, therefore, I request you as county judge of McCracken county to request the governor of Kentucky to instruct Mr. Hines to check up the accounts of Mr. Graham as to revenue which he has collected for the county of McCracken. If you can not secure Mr. Hines to make this examination at once then I request that you immediately call the fiscal court and let the court elect an inspector or commissioner to at once check up Mr. Graham's accounts with the county of McCracken. He is behind with the county several thousand dollars and this matter is of great importance to the tax payers of

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP. RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

"The world of medicine recognizes Grip as epidemic catarrh."
Medical Talk.

LA GRIPPE is epidemic catarrh. It spreads to class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe.
None are exempt—all are liable.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? Grip is well named.
The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy American to read "grip." Without intending to do so a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful fangs had climbed us in his first sleep. Men, women, children, whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of a terrible monster.

The following letters speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Pe-Ru-Na in cases of la grippe or its after-effects.After Effects of La Grippe Eradicated by Pe-Ru-Na.

Mrs. Fred Wehlsberger, Westerlo, Albany County, N. Y., writes:

"Several years ago I had an attack of la grippe which left my nerves in a prostrated condition. When I had another attack of la grippe which left me worse, I had tried three good physicians but all in vain. I gave Pe-Ru-Na a trial.
In a short time I was feeling better and now I am as well as anyone."—Mrs.
Fred Wehlsberger.

Hon. James R. Gull of Omaha.

Hon. James R. Gull is one of the oldest and most respected men of Omaha, Nebr. He has done much to make it

McCracken county, of whom I am one.

Please let me know at once if you are willing to require an inspection and examination and a full report of Mr. Graham's account with the comity of McCracken.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM LYDON.

The Official Report.

Inspector Hines seems to have told a number of persons a number of things, if what they claim is true.
When confronted with it, however, he does not admit that he has told anything. He informed a number of people before he left Paducah. It is asserted, that his official report relative to County Clerk Graham would be published in Sunday's Courier-Journal.

He informed others that his official report could not be made until he had examined the auditor's books, and that it would not be made until Monday.

Still others were informed by him that it might be summer until he made an official report, while some allege that he practically made a report to them before he left Paducah.

Judge Lightfoot's Reply.

Judge Lightfoot, upon receipt of Mr. Lydon's letter, replied as follows:

Paducah, Ky., Mar. 3, 1905.

Mr. W. E. Lydon,

Paducah, Ky.

Dear Sir:—

Your communication which you have just handed me has been carefully noted and in reply to your request will say that I shall make a demand upon Mr. Chas. E. Graham, the county clerk, at your instance and request for all books and papers pertaining to his office that may be of service in an examination touching upon the question as to whether or not there is anything due this county.

I shall begin this investigation at once. I shall take precisely the same steps toward Mr. Graham that I did with reference to Mr. L. D. Potter, the sheriff, and I shall prosecute the laguery with the same energy that I did in the case of the sheriff.

If Mr. Graham should in any manner refuse to turn over the books which I shall demand, I shall place the matter, as I did in the case of Mr.
Potter, in the hands of the state.
Though always a painful duty, I de-what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peruna in the following words:

"I am a year old, am hale and hearty, and Peruna has helped me attain it.
Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peruna saved me."
—J. R. Gull.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Silas S. Lincoln, who resides at 311 E. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peruna, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease. I can now do as much work at my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Pe-Ru-Na Not Only Cured La Grippe but Benefitted the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Drexler, Miss N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured but the bad after effects remained through the summer and somehow I did not get strong as I was before. One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me to try Peruna and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh but restored me to perfect health, built up the entire system and brought a happy feeling of buoyancy which I had not known for years."—Alice M. Drexler.

An Actress' Testimonial.

Miss Jean Cowgill, Griswold Opera House, Troy, N. Y., is the leading lady with the Aubrey Stock Co. She writes the following:

"During the cold winter of 1901, I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grippe, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

"Some one suggested Peruna. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowgill.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Ross, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grippe, which left me with systemic catarrh. A friend advised me to try your Peruna which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Ross.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

A. Cross Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

I wish to say to you further that I have at all times noticed the con-

Interesting Coincidence.

Today is the anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmett, the noted Irish martyr, and an interesting coincidence in connection with it is that Miss Aline Hagby, of "The Simple Life," makes her first appearance in Paducah on the anniversary. It is an interesting coincidence because of the fact that Robert Emmett has always been a great hero with her father and his ancestors, and several of them were named for the great patriot. Hon. E. W. Hagby himself was named for Robert Emmett, and his son, Mr. Emmett Hagby, might also be said to be a namesake of Robert Emmett, although he is named for his father.

NOT MELLONS.

But Good Old Grape Nuts This Time.

Out at Rocky Ford, Col., where the wonderful melons come from, a man had an experience with food that he will never forget.

"I had been running down for a long time, memory got very bad. I had that dreadful feeling of apprehension that something was going to happen, and could not get rid of it.

"I lay many nights almost without any sleep whatever, had a dull sick headache most of the time was nervous and my stomach was in a dreadful condition.

"At this period I was induced to change my food and go on Grape Nuts and cream, and from the first week I found a marked change. I kept on steadily until now I have been using the food for four months. I have gone back to my old weight, my complexion is rosy and indicates perfect health. My memory is better than it has been in years. All the old stomach and heart trouble is gone. I sleep like a baby at night and no one can tell how I appreciate the feeling of perfect health brought to me by Grape Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

AN OVERSIGHT.

Causes Saloon Man to Be Arrested By Uncle Sam.

Ben Allen, proprietor of the New Richmond hotel saloon, was arrested this morning by Deputy U. S. Marshal George Saunders for selling liquor without a government license, and will be given a trial during the regular term of federal court in April unless the matter is settled before then.

The warrant is the result of an oversight on the part of Allen to transfer the government license of the saloon. Allen bought out H. M. Burkhardt several months ago and had his county and city licenses transferred but overlooked the government license. The authorities noticed this and issued papers on him to compel him to take out a government license. It is presumed that no prosecution will take place.

They are still missing.

Will Recommend a $1.85 Tax Rate For City of Paducah For 1905

The finance committee of the general council held its regular meeting last night to go over the bills that will be presented at the regular board meetings next week, and incidentally to decide on the tax rate for this year. It was decided to recommend that the tax rate be fixed at $1.85, the highest possible under the second class charter, and the necessary ordinances will be ready for presentation Monday night.

This tax rate with the amount derived annually from licenses and other sources of revenue, and from the franchise taxes, will give the city about the amount appropriated, provided it is all collected. There is always more or less every year, however, that remains uncollected.

Kidneys Affected, But Five Bottles Completely Cured

PEPSIN SYRUP COMPANY, Monticello, Ill.

Gentlemen:

A few months ago I had frequent dull aches in my back, my muscles felt sore, I had frequent headache, and my appetite was varying. At times I did not care for food a whole day. The doctor claimed that my liver was inactive, and that this affected my kidneys somewhat. He prescribed for me and I took his medicine for over two months. Finding that this brought no relief, and that I was getting worse, a Lodge friend advised me to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I used three bottles and felt greatly relieved, and after having taken five bottles in all, I was completely cured. I am very grateful for my continued health, and feel it is a daily blessing which I appreciate as never before.
